Success

Brigit: In this last video, I want to share with you a couple of really simple tips to make the most out of your Bidy Tarot Planner. So, the very important, the most important thing is to make a time to do your Bidy Tarot Planner. And here's the thing. This is not homework. It's not a chore. This is your opportunity to reconnect with yourself and your inner wisdom. So, see it as a gift when you have that time available to jump into your planner. Now, you might want to schedule it into your calendar either every day, if you want to do the daily tarot card in the planner, or maybe every week, or at a bare minimum I would say every month. It might look like every month you're going in, you're having a look at what's the card for the month? What does that mean for me? And on every third month you're looking at the seasonal spreads.

Brigit: Use this time to really connect in with yourself, plus those natural cycles around you. The way I like to see it and this is what I think is the most ... the biggest advantage of the Bidy Tarot Planner is that it's like these series of checkpoints for you to check in with your higher self, with your soul, with your higher purpose, and so on, and these checkpoints allow you to align internally, but also externally to those cycles around you. So, really treat it as just this really special, yummy time for you to connect in with yourself. Now, of course, the most important thing is that you find this is a joyful process and you really just enjoy that process. So, don't get too hung up, "Oh, Have I got the right card meanings? Am I doing it in the right way?" Just really trust yourself and go with the flow, because that is where the magic happens, when you're feeling really good about reading your cards, connecting in with your intuition, and aligning your actions with your higher purpose.

Brigit: All right. Now, of course, if you are loving the planner, we would love for you to leave a review on Amazon. There are some more instructions on this page with the planner toolkit, and it will also really help spread the word about the planner. If you're on social media, or particularly Instagram, make sure you take lots of photos with your planner and use the hashtag, #BiddyTarotPlanner. That way we get to share those gorgeous photos with our community and really celebrate you and what you're doing with the planner. All right. My wish for you is for you to have so much success here in 2020 for it to be that year of aligned to action and for you to really be able to
